Re: Letter of Recommendation for Mr. Nathan Révoal and Ms. Tanya Colasurdo of Barclay Street Real Estate.

To Whom It May Concern,

I initially met Mr. Nathan Révoal when our Company was seeking office space five years ago. With the completion of our existing lease later this year, my first objective in the search for office space was to re-engage his services. Since initially working with Mr. Révoal, he has added the services of Ms. Tanya Colasurdo to his team. My comments contained herein pertain to both Mr. Révoal and Ms. Colasurdo. As these are my only "contact persons", I could only make inferences regarding Barclay Street Real Estate and so will restrict my points to the individuals only.

I have always felt that I have received the complete support from both Mr. Révoal and Ms. Colasurdo, acting as MY agents, providing an expert level of knowledge and support regarding prospective space, prospective landlords, prospective buildings and the detailed leasing market at a specific point in time. Both are very well informed about each of these aspects of the decision making process, clear in their communications and professional in their approach.

We have now renewed our office lease at Energy Plaza. Clearly, our Company was already well aware of our space, landlord and building. However, in renegotiating our lease, Mr. Révoal and Ms. Colasurdo played a valuable role in assisting us to achieve lease terms that met, and in certain instances, exceeded our expectations. Their services related not only to the determination of base rental rates, but included assistance in avoiding certain "pitfalls" that were not obvious in the lease document, including to legal counsel.

As our selected real estate advisors, we recognize that the parameters of this assignment were challenging in a very dynamic real estate market. We appreciated their determination, persistence and unwavering commitment to this assignment.

I am pleased to recommend Mr. Nathan Révoal and Ms. Tanya Colasurdo of Barclay Street to any organization seeking qualified and proven experts for commercial real estate advisory services.

Yours truly,

AKITA DRILLING LTD.
