Barclay Street Real Estate Helps Bring Calgary Art and Music to a Global Stage

Barclay Street Real Estate is supporting Sled Island for another year as nearly 350 local and international performers take stage for 25,000 music and art enthusiasts.

CALGARY AB, CANADA (June 12, 2012) — Barclay Street Real Estate is a locally-owned commercial real estate brokerage that proudly supports the Calgary community. For the second year in a row, Barclay Street is sponsoring Sled Island, an annual music and arts festival hosted in Calgary from June 20-23, 2012.

This year, Sled Island will bring together 25,000 people from all over the continent for 4 days of art, music, film and comedy shows hosted in 38 venues across the city. With nearly 350 performances, the festival boasts over 50% Albertan artists and many popular performers including Feist and Hold Steady.

“We are proud to support Sled Island for another year. The festival provides so many strong opportunities for the local art and music communities and has brought great exposure to Calgary on a national and international platform,” exclaims Dan Harmsen, Vice President and Associate Broker at Barclay Street. “Calgary is a culturally-rich city with many talented artists and Barclay Street is happy to be a part of their journey at Sled Island.”

For another year, Barclay Street is also donating 50 all-age festival passes with an additional 50 passes being matched by Sled Island to be distributed between local youth organizations: Boys & Girls Club of Calgary, Camp Quality and Kids Upfront.
